Test site employees anxious to resume shuttle engine work

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The space shuttle main engines tested at National Space Laboratories in Hancock County have been exonerated from any blame for the Challenger disaster in the Rogers Report released this week.

The presidential investigative commission concluded that the space shuttle main engines tested at NSTL "did not cause or contribute to the cause of the Challenger disaster," Mack Herring, NASA Public Affairs Officer, said in an interview Wednesday.

"Analysis of the engine start data shows all three engine starts were normal and no abnormalities were found," he added.

Herring said an assessment of the engine performance in the final seconds of the mission before the accident was compared with similar periods of all flights of the Challenger engines.

Herring said employees who work with the space shuttle program at NSTL are very anxious to resume the engine testing. A moratorium set following the Challenger incident remains in effect.

In spite of the moratorium, none of the 750 employees who work directly with the shuttle engine testing program have been laid off or had hours cut, he said.

"We were asked by the commission to keep our test stand and all associated hardware on a standby basis during the investigation," Herring said.

The necessity of continuous maintenance of the equipment at the test site also required employees to continue although actual engine testing had been temporarily halted, he added.

"In the past few months the agency has undergone very careful and painful review. It is now time to implement the recommendations of the commission as well as the findings from our own critical self-analysis," Herring said.

"As Commission Chairman Rogers said, 'The nation's task is now to move ahead to return to safe space flight and to America's recognized position of leadership position in space. There could be no more fitting tribute to the Challenger crew than to do so,'" Herring stated.

He also said the commission report contains favorable comments about past testing at NSTL.

Herring said he expects no major changes at the NSTL test site resulting from either the modifications or the commission's report.

"On behalf of NASA we would like to thank all of the people in the community surrounding NSTL including the young people who have been so close to our program for their support during this critical time," he said.

"We are studying the report and will use it in its entirety to move forward," he continued.

"As NASA Director Dr. James Fletcher said, 'Where management is weak, we will strengthen it. Where engineering or design or process needs improving, we will improve them. Where our internal communications are poor, we will see that they get better,'" Herring stated.

The report blamed the Jan. 28 Challenger explosion on a seal in the solid rocket booster.

FEMA eases restrictions on trailers

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Planning Commission has been notified that the Federal Emergency Management Agency has changed its regulations regarding mobile homes.

Presently, a mobile home is allowed in flood zones if properly elevated to current specifications. Mobile homes are not allowed in velocity zones, where there are dangers from fast-moving flood waters.

According to the letter, which was read at the board's June meeting by Attorney John Scafide Jr., the change in regulations takes effect next year and will allow properly elevated mobile homes in velocity zones.

In other business, the board: —Gave final approval on plats for John's Bayou Estates Subdivision, as requested by developer Delmer Wilcox;

—Approved preliminary plats for Jourdan Bluff Estates and Pines Hills Estates subdivisions; and —Heard but took no action on a complaint regarding delays in construction of an access road for Shiloh Ranch Estates Subdivision Phase I; Commission Chairman Wayne Ducomb Sr. said the complaint was out of commission jurisdiction and should have been taken to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Wastewater board deadlocked, engineer dispute continues

By DENA BISNETTE

A conference between the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District Board and officials of the State Bureau of Pollution Control has failed to produce a compromise concerning a cost dispute.

In addition, the district is in danger of missing U.S. Environmental Protection Agency funding deadlines if the problem is not resolved.

The failure to resolve the issue resulted in the scheduling of a special board meeting Wednesday night.

The costs in question include charges for engineering services in a contract between the district and Reynolds, Smith and Hills, a Jacksonville, Fla., firm associated with Ed Lewis Partnership of Jackson.

The contract has not been finalized because district board members John Longo Jr., Victor Frankiewicz Jr. and A.A. Kellar have argued that the engineering charges were increased too much after Segments III and IV of a district improvement project were reorganized into Segments III, IV and V.

The contract is for administrative and engineering services involved in Segment III, which consists of improvements to the existing Waveland treatment plant in preparation for the eventual linkage of the Bay St. Louis and Waveland sewage collection and treatment systems.

According to John McCarty, a bureau project engineer, the district submitted its Segment III funding application in time to make a May 1 deadline but the submission was considered incomplete because the contract had not been finalized.

According to Longo, Reynolds, Smith and Hills representative David Herndon had informed the board that the application package could be submitted without finalization of the contract if the package included a document stating that prices were still being negotiated.

Herndon said that at the time he made the recommendation, he believed adding the document was the correct procedure.

The package must be presented to the State Commission of Natural Resources for review before the grant can be awarded. That deadline is Aug. 1.

"We're very leery of awarding a grant while holding open the matter of who will perform the administration and engineering services and how much they will cost. A second thing to consider is that we're very short of funds," McCarty explained.

The district had considered the possibility of allowing Reynolds, Smith and Hills to associate with a local firm to reduce costs. That possibility had been eliminated at a previous meeting because it was not found to be cost effective.

That possibility had been replaced with a proposal that would have allowed Reynolds, Smith and Hills to provide an outline of the scope and cost of Segment III. That outline would have been distributed to four firms on a list obtained by the district in the process of finding a contractor for Segment V.

According to Tom Webb, bureau procurement officer, state regulations do not allow the use of the list in order to obtain additional proposals for price comparison.

If the district chooses that route, the additional proposals will have to be obtained through legal advertisement, which will take 30 days.

The 30 day-delay and the time needed for evaluating the proposal is likely to cause the district to miss the Aug. 1 deadline, Webb said.

A second option could be to obtain proposals without bids and make the decision on the strength of the proposals alone, but that also requires a 30-day legal advertisement.

Webb explained that use of the already available list is not advisable because state engineering guidelines limit that method to the consideration of no more than five firms.

Eventually, the selection will have to meet U.S. Environmental Protection Agency standards, which will not allow limitation to just five firms.

"The choice you have to make is whether you are getting the best contract for the best price," McCarty said.

"Money is the problem that immediately surfaced but the quality of the work is not there. It drags on and on. We thought everything was all right with the bureau, that we could go in without the administration and engineering figures," Longo said.

He also stated that Reynolds, Smith and Hills representatives had led the district board to believe that the paperwork regarding Farmer's Home Administration funding for the local share of the Segment III cost was in place.

Longo said he had been notified by letter earlier this month that the application was incomplete.

Another option remaining open to the district, Webb said, is hiring a third party to oversee the services rendered by Reynolds, Smith and Hills.

Agency funds would not cover those costs, however, and the district would have to pay whoever

Planning commission to meet with GRPC on hospital zoning

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission will meet with representatives of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission June 24 to discuss final plans on the proposed zoning changes around the new hospital site.

The commission voted Tuesday for the special meeting in which representatives of GRPC will present their recommendations for the hospital-commercial zoning ordinance.

The new zoning area is being created around the new hospital site to allow health related facilities to be built adjacent to the hospital.

Chairman Joe Marochino presented to the commission a list of uses permitted in the zone, sign and fence requirements at Tuesday's meeting which will be forwarded to GRPC.

Uses permitted include medical doctors and dentists offices or clinics; psychiatric, psychological and chiropractic clinics; and medical and dental laboratories.

Signs shall be permitted but restricted to nine square feet in area

Hancock school board reclassifies controversial 16th Section parcel

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

On a third attempt the Hancock County School Board this week voted to reclassify a parcel of Sixteenth Section land as commercial.

In two previous meetings, Board Member Lennete Necaise has made motions for the reclassification but they died for the lack of a second.

Monday Board Attorney Joseph Gex recommended the board advertise for the reclassification of the parcel.

The board recently received a letter from Secretary of State Dick Molpus reminding the board of its responsibility of leasing the land for the highest amount of revenue.

Commercial leases generate more than twice the amount earned on residential leases.

Board Member Tommy Shaw made the motion for the reclassification and that the board also advertise for bids on the property.

Voting in favor were Necaise and Billie Faye Lyons. George Ladner abstained from voting and Manuel Cuevas was absent from the meeting.

Also at the meeting the board:

—Approved recommendation to employ Susan Buckley as Special Education teacher at Hancock North Central for the 1986-87 school year.

—Approved to employ Mike Halley and Dennis Peterson as summer maintenance workers for 30 days at a rate of $7 per hour.

—Approved request to furnish school bus for Grand Jury with driver to be paid by the court.

—Approved payment of Mississippi School Board Association Dues for 1986-87 school year.

—Approved request for Barbara White to attend the MECC Meeting in Jackson on September 9.

—Approved recommendation for all Board Members to attend the School Board Institute in Hattiesburg on June 22-23.

—Approved cancellation of two leases in Section 24-6-15 by Wayne and Theresa Wade, Jr.

Pioneers annual meet

More than 800 persons attended the annual meeting of the Mississippi Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America in Biloxi May 30 and 31.

The two day statewide annual assembly was held at the Royal d'Iberville Hotel. Business meetings, workshops, and recreational events highlighted the program.

Incoming state officers are Barbara Dorr of Jackson, president; W. A. DuBose of Jackson, vice president; and Doris Kelly of Jackson, secretary/treasurer. The new Gulf Coast Council president is Jim Holland of Gulfport succeeding J. W. Kinsey of Pascagoula.

The Pioneer organization is the largest social-industrial association in the world.

It has 648,000 members throughout the United States and Canada. Its members all have 18 years or more of service in the telephone industry and they engage in hundreds of programs to aid physically, socially and emotionally handicapped persons, as well as promote fellowship and loyalty among telephone people.

This past year they exceeded 126,360 volunteer hours on various community services throughout the state.

The Mississippi Chapter is composed of local councils from Greenwood, Gulf Coast, Hattiesburg, Jackson, Meridian, Natchez, and Tupelo.

The Gulf Coast Chapter serves Jackson, Harrison, Hancock and South Pearl River counties.

Bay school board enforcing policy on agenda requests

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District's Board is enforcing a previously waived policy to maintain order at its meetings.

Board President Betty Diboll said Monday that the board will again begin using the district's Policy 18.

Under Policy 18, anyone who wishes to address the board must contact the superintendent's office prior to the meeting in order to be included on the meeting agenda.

The policy does not apply to discussions of items already on the agenda.

"I have broken Policy 18 in the past as the board president but it has been abused," Diboll stated.

At numerous board meetings, Diboll has asked shortly after the meetings were called to order whether or not anyone in the audience wished to address the board.

She said that waiving policy 18 had resulted in problems keeping order at meetings and had possibly contributed to some "personal" comments made after board meetings.

In other business Monday, the board:

—Opened annual supply and service bids and took them under advisement;

—Took under advisement a request for approval for a handicapped child living in the county to attend a Bay District elementary school as a tuition-paying student;

—Accepted a request from Peggy Smith and Lana Noonan of Bay-Waveland Parents for Quality Education for a place on the next meeting agenda to discuss kindergarten;

—Approved a request by Bay Junior High Principal W.J. Cameron for permission to install air conditioning in the S.J. Ingram Building at a cost of $3,500, which has been raised by several organizations at the school;

—Agreed to advertise for bids for new uniforms for the Bay High Band;

—Approved rehiring last year's teacher assistants and teacher aides;

—Accepted the resignation of Ellen Brandon, second grade teacher at Waveland Elementary School;

—Approved addition of two teachers to the Bay Junior High faculty;

—Approved completion of the 1985-86 staff development program for all teachers except five who either left the district during the school term or were hired after the program began;

—Discussed but took no action on Superintendent J.D. McCullough's request for a special meeting on the district's long range building program;

—Placed on the board minutes without discussion a resolution by the Bay St. Louis City Council, which asked that the board reconsider its decision to use trailers as kindergarten classrooms; —Agreed unanimously to name the Bay High football field after Superintendent J.D. McCullough, who retires at the end of June.

The meeting on the building program has not yet been scheduled. The board's next regular meeting will be 7 p.m. July 7 at the superintendent's office.

Saturday should be a fun time for youngsters up to age 13 who participate in the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139 Second Annual Kids Fishing Rodeo.

The saltwater rodeo headquarters will be at the Legion's Memorial Pier, Beach Boulevard and Washington Street, Bay St. Louis.

Registration will be during rodeo hours of 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. with first place trophies in nine saltwater categories to be awarded.

We know the rodeo was a big success last year, as the youngsters who participated really enjoyed themselves, and many prizes were taken home.

Registration is free and fishing boundaries are from the mouth of the Jourdan River to Bayou Cadet from shore and piers only, with no boat fishing allowed.

It was great last year to see the many parents with their children who participated, and we hope this happens again this year.

There will be free hot dogs and cokes for participants.

We hope to see you at the fishing rodeo.

Just about every review of the recent Special Session of the Mississippi State Legislature indicates very little was accomplished.

We realize the state's financial condition is reportedly in serious condition, yet it costs a big sum of money for the Special Session.

This appears to be a waste of taxpayer money and the state appears to have very little to waste.

As many of you know, the month of June is Adopt-a-Cat Month, with animal shelters across the nation including the Hancock County Animal Shelter giving special emphasis to placing cats in good homes.

The program is supported by 9-Lives Cat Food Company, and all adopters during June will receive and adoption kit, containing Morris' textbook of cat care and cat food coupons.

The Hancock Animal Shelter is located on Gulfside Drive in Waveland behind Fire Station No. 2 and is open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

We have been told the local animal shelter has several nice cats ready for adoption.

In the many years I have been writing editorials, never before have I received so many favorable comments over an issue as that of the Kindergarten classrooms in Bay St. Louis school system.

It appears the public feels as we do about providing adequate classrooms for our young preschoolers.

I have received telephone calls, personal visits, personal messages, indirect messages from people against the use of trailers as educational facilities.

The thing that worries many are the same that bothers us, temporary almost always means permanent, as proven by past experiences.

I guess last year when I traveled Central Avenue in Bay St. Louis was the last time that I encountered as many pot holes as I did on Tuesday in the 600 block of Union Street.

In addition Central Avenue was a much longer stretch than the one block of Union Street.

It is hard to believe a street would be left to get into such a condition, especially when it serves as the only entrance and exit for so many residents of Bay St. Louis.

We are hoping it is repaired very soon.

DAR promotes flag etiquette

To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

With Independence Day rapidly approaching, the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Friendship Oak Chapter, would like to list a few rules for flying The Flag of the United States of America.

It is the universal custom to display the flag from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaffs in the open.

However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the flag may be displayed 24 hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness.

The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, except when an all-weather flag is displayed.

The flag should be displayed on all days, especially on holidays and such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States.

The National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution has contributed flag code books to all local libraries.

We encourage you to fly your flags proudly and properly.

Dear Sir,

The favorable vote for the unit system of government in Hancock County deserves an expression of gratitude—gratitude to our officials who made the vote possible and to all the organizations and people who made unit government a reality.

Now we can be a little prouder of our county and our state. We have over-all decent people in Mississippi, but we were called names, some of them not complimentary, during the racial agony of the 1960's.

Somehow we came through it all so that now racial relationships are much improved.

Also, for years we endured the cumbersome, undemocratic, caucus system of nominating party presidential candidates, but in March, 1986, the people, by means of primaries, will themselves vote to determine these nominations.

We can be even prouder for there is yet much to be done! We need unit government in all 82 counties in Mississippi, and almost completely new Constitution is needed to replace the one we now have, which emerged from the Civil War and Reconstruction.

And, there is yet much to be done in our nation and our shrinking world: some (possibly many) may say "here's hoping those sanctions will be a little more effective."

Is it right, in a world with so many skeleton-like bodies, with empty bloated bellies, that we in the U.S.A. spend three trillion dollars (likewise other nations) on "defense" when we may well hereby obliterate God's green earth, ourselves included?

Shut-up? Well, when there is no more pain, disease, deadly drugs, drunken driving, fear and its offspring—hate, ignorance, propaganda and petty partisanship, when everywhere truth replaces ignorance, peace and pity, and compassion replace war and woe—in short, when heaven comes down to earth, we will—parsons and people—"shut our mouths."

But until then, don't you know to ask us to stop preaching is like asking plants to stop growing, fish to stop swimming, and birds to stop flying and singing?

AAA urges objections to proposed federal gasoline tax hike

June 5, 1986
Letters to the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

AAA says "No" to gas tax increase.

Momentum is building within the White House and in Congress, particularly in the Senate, for foisting a new tax on gasoline or petroleum as a quick and easy way to offset the federal budget, or to pay for changes to an omnibus tax reform bill already sent to the Senate Floor.

However, such a tax would be highly regressive and discriminatory—both geographically and economically—and, if enacted, would create a variety of economic hardships which could not be resolved by other tax code changes.

A 20 cents to 50 cents a gallon fuel tax hike would not be spread equally among U.S. consumers. For example, people who drive in some western states use twice as much gasoline in their daily routine as Easterners, raising the obvious question: Should people who live in states with large land areas and little public transit bear twice the burden of tax revision or deficit reduction?

Low income families will also suffer. Government studies show that those who earn less than $10,000 annually rely most on their cars, which are often older and less fuel efficient, to commute to and from their jobs. Households with incomes less than $7,400 spend more than twice as much of their incomes on gasoline as households with incomes of $36,900 or more, according to the Congressional Budget Office.

Equally important, a large gas tax increase would ricochet through the travel industry, discouraging out-of-state visitors from coming to or through Mississippi, cutting into tourist spending, and ultimately decreasing state tax revenues.

With our 6 percent state sales tax applied to gasoline purchases, Mississippi motorists are among the highest-taxed drivers in the country.

Now is the time for all motorists to contact John Stennis and Thad Cochran to object to this misguided grab for the driver's wallet.

Sincerely yours,
D. A. Littlefield

The Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Sir:

I was hoping that my letter of last week to the Editor of the Sea Coast Echo complaining about dead fish and billboards would be the last I would need to pen for a while. However, it is not to be and I am begging your indulgence once again to let me express my latest two grievances.

Firstly, about a month ago I was stopped by one of our constables and informed that I had been driving at the speed of 37 m.p.h. in a 25 m.p.h. zone on Beach Boulevard. I had, in fact, been on the beach with my trusty hound, had barely gotten up speed before I espied said constable's car lurking behind the bushes.

I am, by nature a most law abiding citizen but receiving the ticket from said constable really taxed my impatience with the law. During the three years I have lived here, it has boggled my mind as to the different speed limits all over the place.

Therefore, after receiving said ticket and before my Court appearance date, I spent considerable time drawing up a chart showing how ludicrous the speed limit signs are—so ludicrous, in fact, that driving along Beach Boulevard towards Highway 90, one has to reduce speed to 15 m.p.h. at the Episcopal Church, to 10 m.p.h. at St. Stanislaus and not be allowed to rev up the motor until Carroll - and yet going the opposite way, the speed is 25 m.p.h. I found many instances of variations in speed - for no apparent reason speed limits change on the same road - like Waveland Avenue.

Thus armed I went to Night Court, presented my case to the Honorable Judge and after submitting my "evidence" told him that I would have to write to the local newspaper and suggest to the powers that-be that life would be a lot easier for all concerned if there was one speed limit only inside the city limits (other than slower speeds for schools). He agreed, so hence my first grievance.

Number two grievance is directed at the Water and Natural Gas Systems. For December my gas bill was $41.95; January $232.95; February $55.95; March $177.95; April $105.95; and May $19.95. It is interesting to note that December and February, when it was cold, my gas bill was way down, but in April it was way up. In the past, I have complained of these bills only to be very nicely informed that the "meter reading was correct."

Like the varying speed signs, my gas bill goes up and down like a yo-yo. I am quite sure nothing will be done about it for me and others but I just felt like spouting off hot air (or is it gas?). I think I feel better.

Sincerely,
Valerie Fisher

Dear Editor,

We would like to commend all the businesses which donated prizes and money to the recent East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department's fund-raiser.

We went out to the different business people and collected everything from dinners, sandwiches, plants and gift certificates and also perms, shampoo, set and blow-dry.

The event was very successful due in no small part to the people who worked on May 16 at the K.C. Hall on Main Street.

Visiting prisoner at Parchman can be costly, time-consuming

Dear Editor:

This is in regard to the transportation system at the state penitentiary at Parchman.

When the family of inmates go up to visit, they must pay $1 per ride to the unit their son or daughter or friend is at.

After paying to see their son, daughter, friend, husband or wife and spending a couple of hours, then they must wait for 30 minutes up to two hours for the bus to pick them up.

I know this because I go to Parchman each Sunday. I travel 300 plus miles to and from Parchman each way every Sunday and this happens to me twice a month.

Is this any way to treat those who pay taxes and revenue on gas, oil, food, etc. to and from?

I think the person can do better. What about you?

If you feel as I do, let Mr. Cabane of the Mississippi Department of Correction, superintendent at Parchman, know. I feel he will help if he knows what is taking place.

Smoking Is No Joke

Smoking is no laughing matter for actor-comedian Robert Klein. Now an exsmoker, he knows quitting can be a tough role to handle. That's why he teamed with the American Lung Association—the Christmas Seal People—to create a public service antismoking TV, radio, and print campaign.

Kicking the habit was not a quick study for the acclaimed high-energy comedian, who has twice been nominated for a Grammy award for the best comedy album of the year and often has appeared on The Tonight Show and The David Letterman Show. "After three tries," Klein said, "I finally said good-bye to smoking."

Because he himself struggled to join the millions who are ex-smokers, Klein can speak with conviction about smokers who failed in earlier attempts but still long to quit. "Even the most addicted smokers can break the chains of smoking," Klein said emphatically. "They think they can't. But if I'm any example, they can."

Take it from this exsmoker who was once a premed student: "Smoking is no joke. Lung cancer and emphysema are tough acts to follow."

Japanese business leaders to visit

"Economic relations between the United States and Japan have increased over the past several decades to now include direct investment and technology exchange in addition to trade in goods," according to Jerry McDonald, executive director of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development.

Because of the increasing importance of economic relations with Japan, in March 1986, Governor Bill Allain invited the Keidanren Investment Expansion Mission to the U.S. to include Mississippi in its mission schedule.

According to McDonald the group of 20 representatives of Keidanren will arrive in Mississippi on the evening of June 15.

Keidanren (Federation of Economic Organizations) is a private, non-profit economic organization representing all branches of economic activities in Japan. The group visiting Mississippi will consist of twelve representatives from major industrial firms, four representatives of international Japanese banks, and Keidanren staff members.

In 1984, Keidanren dispatched three investment study missions to a total of 23 states including Mississippi. These missions gathered first-hand information on the economic and social environment of each state visited and gained insight into the understanding of companies in each state for the concerns of Japanese companies.

In 1985, Keidanren surveyed all of its 866 member companies on "Japanese Investment Trends in the U.S." The results of the survey indicate a strong interest in increasing direct investment in the U.S.

As a result of the survey, Keidanren planned another investment expansion mission to the U.S.

According to McDonald, "We were informed about the planned mission by Mississippi's representative in Japan, Teruhiko Tsuji. Governor Allain then extended an invitation to Keidanren to visit Mississippi as a part of their mission."

"Mississippi is one of a few states to get a repeat visit from Keidanren. Also, Seiki Tozaki, the mission leader, was a member of the first Keidanren mission to Mississippi," McDonald added.

"The mission will visit and exchange views with the Governor, business and government leaders, as well as Japanese companies who already operate in Mississippi, and visit major industrial sites," says McDonald.

McDonald continues, "Although this mission will not involve direct business investment talks, we are convinced that the visit by the mission will lead to further expansion of Japan's direct investment in Mississippi."

While in the State, the group will be hosted by the Mississippi Department of Economic Development and will visit Jackson, Vicksburg, and the DeSoto County area.

Mississippi delegation visiting Japan dubbed 'magnolia version of comic opera'

JACKSON—The Japanese may have been scratching their heads last week as they looked over the Mississippi delegation which came calling, wondering how they lost World War II.

If they knew some of the odd-ball things that went on back in Mississippi preparatory to the delegation leaving, they might demand a recount on the results of WW II.

To begin with, it is somewhat amazing that anyone would lay $70,000 in no-strings money on the benighted state of Mississippi to send people over to Japan to tell the Japanese what people were thinking back in Mississippi.

That was the result of an apparently precocious individual now on the faculty at Mississippi State University, Dr. Janos Radvanya, a former Hungarian diplomat with incredible ties through the United Nations, who got the U.S.-Japan Foundation, a private organization, to sponsor the Mississippi visit.

The U.S.-Japan Foundation grants are supposed to be used to send "opinion makers" to Japan for an interchange of ideas between Americans of all regions and the Japanese.

What the Mississippi group wound up with was a bunch of politicians, a couple of economic developers, two educators, and only one newspaper editor to inform the Japanese about political and social thought back in Mississippi.

At the inception of the trip several months ago when Dr. Radvanya, who knows nothing about Mississippi, was seeking guidance on who should go, the junket was apparently viewed by some state leaders as a chance to send an industrial and trade mission to Japan at no expense to the financially ailing state government.

The initial invitation to make the trip was extended to Gov. Bill Allain, who promptly turned it down. Mind you, this was long before Allain knew he would have a special session of the Legislature, as was given as the excuse by his press secretary last week of Allain's inability to go.

So with Allain out, his substitute was supposed to be Jerry McDonald, the director of the State Board of Economic Development, who could use the two-week junket as an excellent opportunity to sell Mississippi's industrial advantages.

Perish the thought. Three weeks before the delegation was to leave on May 31, McDonald cancelled, giving no reason. Along with it, McDonald cancelled the luncheon that the State of Mississippi was slated to sponsor to honor their Japanese hosts.

McDonald, whose conduct has been bizarre for some time as he goes in and out of the hospital from attacks involving a pituitary disorder, is said to have informed the governor's office he was concerned that a journalist was about to expose that the sponsors of the trip were a small radical political group in Japan.

Of course, was p... e hogwash since those who had delved into the background of the U.S.-Japan Foundation knew that it had a distinguished board on which former Presidents Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford, as well as three former Japanese ambassadors to the United States, are serving.

Inquiries to the governor's office by persons connected with the trip, seeking to have one of his top assistants accompany the delegation in view of McDonald's pull-out, failed to get any response.

Meantime, Dr. Radvanya, apparently at the suggestion of someone with an eye toward dispensing plums to legislative leaders, had put Lt. Gov. Brad Dye and House Speaker Buddie Newman on his tour group, together with two legislators designated by them.

Initially Sen. Doug Anderson of Jackson, a black lawmaker, was the Senate designee. But Anderson backed out, and Sen. John William Powell of Liberty, a rustic, tobacco-chewing type, got the nod. On the House side, Rep. Dick Hall of Jackson, a self-proclaimed industrial development authority, was picked.

Obviously Allain doesn't consider Lt. Gov. Dye his personal representative on the trip, because the split between the two only widened during the special legislative session on highways. Of those on the trip, only the lanky Dye has any experience of having made a previous mission to Japan, 20 years ago when he was director of the old A & I Board.

Dye's reputation in state circles, however, is more adept as a party-goer and table-hopper, rather than a serious economic development negotiator.

Newman loves freebie junkets to the Far East, and possibly a chance to visit his old friend, deposed Philippine dictator Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Some Jacksonians say that Jackson Mayor Dale Danks was put on the tour group because he could talk at eye-level with the Japanese.

Somewhat one gets the feeling that the Mississippi touring group is a magnolia version of a Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera company in which the leading characters are Mutt and Jeff.

On questioning your doctor about a prescribed drug

Make sure your doctor knows what prescription and non-prescription medicines you are already taking before a new drug is prescribed. Tell your doctor about any adverse reactions you have had to drugs in the past; this may indicate an allergy to certain ingredients. Here are some questions that may be useful to ask:

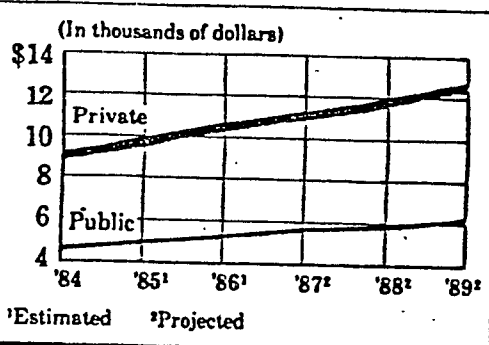

- What is the drug's name, and what does it do?
- How and when do I take it - and for how long?

The new FTC regulation requires finance companies, credit unions, auto dealers and department stores to give a separate document to the co-signer revealing the legal obligations of a co-signer.

The Federal Reserve Board and Federal Home Loan Bank passed similar regulations for commercial banks and savings and loan associations which became effective Jan. 1, 1986.

When anyone becomes a co-signer, he/she is agreeing to repay the loan if the borrower does not.

(Source: Family Living Outlook)
On college costs
The average costs* of attending college for school years ending:

- What will happen if I do not take this medicine?
- Should I keep taking the medicine until the prescription is used up, or just until I feel better?
- What foods, drinks, medicines, or activities should I avoid while taking this drug?
- Are there any side effects, and what should I do if they occur?
- Can you provide any written information about this drug?
- Is a generic equivalent available and appropriate?
- Are there any effective alternatives to drug therapy?

On co-signers
Consumer law for 1986 made changes that attempt to warn the potential co-signer of the hazards of co-signing a loan. Co-signers often find themselves paying someone else's bills. Those co-signing a loan seldom understand the full implications.

County to delay action on hazards

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will have to delay a decision concerning what to do about seven lots considered health hazards by BaySide Park Civic Association.

According to Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge, who was asked to look into the problem after the board received the association's request last week, the decision was originally expected at today's meeting.

The seven lots are owned by Gulf Pines Inc., a New Orleans development company.

He said all seven of the lots are apparently undeveloped.

The reason for the delay has been difficulty contacting the owners, whom Courge said would not be available until later this week.

The civic association complaint labeled the lots "a definite health and safety hazard to our Park residents" because the brush on the property serves as a breeding place for mosquitos, snakes, rats and other vermin.

Courge said Tuesday he had been trying to contact the association regarding the lots because "there are an awful lot of lots in worse shape" in BaySide Park.

"There are plenty with abandoned shacks and some others have been used as dumps. I just don't know how they concluded they should start with these," he explained.

"How can you pick just certain ones to be cleaned?"

He said the county may either contact the lot owners and give them a specific time limit in which to clean their property, or the supervisors may vote to declare the lots a health hazard.

The county has the authority to clean private property if it has been declared a health hazard, but Courge said Beat One does not have a crew or funding to clean every hazardous lot in BaySide Park.

The county may also be allowed to step in cases where there is a visual hazard to traffic from foliage which has grown onto the public right-of-way or into a public ditch.

He added that he is in the process of determining how much authority the board has regarding the problem, but the board may also be authorized to order the clean-up of lots which constitute a fire hazard endangering residences or other structures.

Courge said that the supervisors will probably have to advertise for bids for the job if it is determined that the seven lots mentioned in the complaint should be cleaned under county authority.

for each clinic and a six-foot high non-transparent fence shall be required on any lot bordering residential property.

Area resident Roy Tomlinson requested the board consider extending the proposed hospital-clinic zoning to the city limits.

Tomlinson said his property was three lots behind the proposed zoning and although he originally opposed the hospital zoning he now wanted his property to be included.

Marochino said he did not believe extending the hospital zoning to the city limits would be possible because Paradise Lane could not handle the traffic created by a doctor's office.

He added that the proposed hospital zoning area included lots which all fronted on Drinkwater Road and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors had agreed to convert the present two-lane street into a boulevard.

was hired.

District Administrator Ethel Schott suggested that the board could add a clause to the Segment III contract specifying that any item found ineligible for U.S. Environmental Protection Agency funds be deleted from the contract.

Herdon said he felt his firm would agree to such a clause.

However, when Franckiewicz moved to take the latest cost offer from Reynolds, Smith and Hills and to place such a clause in the contract, his motion died for lack of a second.

"From what I've seen, I'd take a chance on losing the project rather than going the way we are going. I'm not happy with the quality of the work and I feel we are being way overcharged," Longo said.

Kellar also refused to second the motion, requesting the Wednesday meeting to give the board a chance to evaluate the comments obtained from Bureau of Pollution Control.

Bay police seeking armed robber

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Bay St. Louis Police continued their investigation Wednesday into the armed robbery of a Junior Food Store on US-90 at Second Street early Tuesday morning.

The robber was described as possibly a white male, approximately six feet tall, wearing blue jeans, blue tennis shoes and a green army jacket, according to Bay Detective David Murtagh.

Entering the store with a bag over his head and carrying a four-inch steel folding knife, the robber ordered the clerk to open the cash register, Murtagh reported.

The robber took $59 in cash from the register and fled on foot around the back of the store, he added.

De Montluzin to discuss famous edifices of Europe

The International Committee of the Hancock County Extension Homemakers Council is hosting a special slide presentation to be given by Mrs. Emily de Montluzin on Monday, June 16 at the Hancock County Library in Bay St. Louis at 8 p.m. The topic of the slide presentation is "From Stonehenge to Gothic: Famous Temples and Cathedrals of Europe." Some of the slides shown will be from England, France, Italy, Germany and Greece, and will feature the Greek, Romanesque and Gothic styles of Western Europe. International Committee Chairman Martha Van Peski said that "This will be a rare and special treat for the residents of our Gulf Coast community." "At a time when many trips to Europe have been cancelled, this thoughtful assemblage of slides will bring a touch of Europe to us, in a manner Spielberg would probably envy," Van Peski said. All members of the public are invited to attend.

As the temperature soars these summer days, and the thought of the kitchen stove makes you even warmer, take the comparatively easy way out, as I often do, and turn your thoughts to chicken. It's versatile, and relatively "short cut" cooking - and, let's face it, you can't feed the family or even just yourself cold cuts and sandwiches all summer long. Sometimes I quickly saute chicken breasts with a bit of lemon and parsley, more often I saute the chicken quarters in oil or butter, adding sherry or white wine along with lemon slices and various seasonings.

At other times, I add chopped fresh tomatoes and chopped green peppers and mushrooms and onions, and perhaps diced eggplant, all around the chicken quarters or pieces, for a sort of chicken ratatouille.

And, I often add green grapes or cherries or peaches or avocado slices to the sauce at the last minute, just for the fun and good taste and colorful appearance of it. Just be sure that you don't add too much liquid to the pan after browning the chicken, else you'll end up with stewed chicken, which, of course, is quite tasty but that's not what we're cooking today. Here's:

SHERRY-LEMON CHICKEN SPECIAL

1 broiler fryer, 2½ to 3 lbs. quartered
¼ cup (½ stick) butter or margarine

Two-thirds to 1 cup sherry
1 lemon, sliced (less if you don't like that much lemon - I do)

Several grindings of the pepper mill, or coarse-ground black pepper
1 medium onion, chopped
2 Tbsp. fresh parsley, chopped

Melt the butter or margarine, and saute the chicken quarters, browning them nicely and turning as needed, sauteing the onion as well. Distribute the lemon slices atop, dust generously with the pepper, and splash the sherry over all.

Simmer until the chicken is tender, adding the parsley and a dash of crumbled rosemary along the way, as well as a bit of water if needed, and dash of salt if you wish.

I usually cover the pans as it starts to simmer, removing the cover as needed to reduce the liquid a bit, if necessary. Serve with new potatoes and fresh green beans or pole beans.

Vary this basic chicken saute as you wish - it's such a stretchable dish, served with or atop a mound of rice. (Four servings)

'The Greatest Show on Earth' features a living unicorn in New Orleans, June 26-29

Featuring a creature from beyond myth and legend, a living unicorn, the 115th edition of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus opens Thursday, June 26 in the Superdome in New Orleans.

In this show Animal Trainer Gunther Gebel-Williams faces 15 Bengal tigers with only a whip and directs 20 elephants and a dozen untethered horses with voice commands.

In a classic three-ring display, the circus presents the shenanigans of Reinard's Chimpanzees, the antics of Peanuts the Poodle and other pooches of the Braun Family Dogs and the refined grace of Tina Gebel's Russian Wolfhounds.

For aerial entertainment, the circus features Sabu, in death-defying acts on a single trapeze and the Flying Espanas, with full flying trapeze action shown by double and triple somersaults, mid-air catches and passing leaps.

On the highwire, the Posso Brothers display poised equilibrium as they dance, ride bicycles, perform handstands and build a three-man pyramid.

The first black aerial act to ever appear with this circus features Pamela Hernandez and Denise Aubrey performing gymnastic pyrotechnics.

The circus also features the Urias Troupe, who defy gravity by riding supercharged 250cc motorcycles horizontally, vertically and upside down in a 16-foot steel sphere.

From Eastern Europe come master acrobats and tetterboard artists, The Dukovi of Bulgaria, The Constantin of Romania and The Kiss Fekedi of Hungary, who vault, twist and flip into the air to form simultaneous five-man-high human pyramids.

Tickets for the six performances, scheduled for June 26-29 are on sale now at the Superdome Box Office and all Ticketmaster locations.

Legion kids fishing rodeo set Saturday

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Second Annual Kids Fishing Rodeo sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion post No. 139 is scheduled for Saturday.
Roy Dedeaux is chairman of the saltwater fishing rodeo which is open to children up to age 13.
There will be trophies for the largest fish in nine saltwater categories, in addition to second and ing the rodeo hours from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., Dedeaux stated.

Fishing boundaries will be along Beach Boulevard from the mouth of the Jourdan River to Bayou Cadet from the shore and piers only, with no boat fishing, the chairman added.
Free hot dogs and cokes will be for all participants.
The fishing rodeo committee consists of Dedeaux, Myron Oliver, co-third place prizes, Dedeaux said.

There will also be many other prizes for participants, with some being donated by local businesses.
The fishing rodeo will be from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. and registration will be at the rodeo headquarters at the American Legion's Memorial Pier, Washington Street and Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis.
"There will be no entry fee and registrations will be conducted dur-chairman; Noel Gilliam, weighmaster; with committee members Commander Billy Taylor, and Billy Moran.

Dedeaux stated, "This is an American Legion project for the youth of our area, and many members of Post No. 139. The event was successful in 1985, and it is hoped there will be many more participants on June 14."

Bassin' with the Pros

By Trey Foerster

Saving a submerged motor.
I only witnessed it once: A fisherman frustrated from a lack of action sought to start his motor with a strenuous yank—only to find that his motor wasn't secured and it carried a retention chain.

Yep, kerr plunk! Right into the soup. There's nothing like seeing a man's motor dive overboard and the flurry of language and body gestures that follow!

With some fast and savvy action you can minimize damage to your motor (and billfold!) and restore your motor and ego to normal operation.

Fast action is the key to restoring operation to a submerged outboard motor according to Tom Ireland, manager of field service at Outboard Marine Corp., parent firm of Johnson and Evinrude outboards.

"Assuming it can be recovered after taking the plunge," Ireland says, "our best advice is that you hustle the motor right to a marine dealer. Once the motor is out of the water, you only have about three hours before corrosion can start working on needle valves, bearings and other important parts."

"If you are more than three hours away from a dealer, there are some steps you can take yourself to try to prevent costly damage to the motor," Ireland instructs.

If you happen to be in a remote area and can't go to a dealer for service, follow these steps:

Step One: Remove the motor cover and flush the exterior of the motor with fresh water to rinse off salt water, mud or sand.

Step Two: Get any water out of the cylinders. Disconnect the spark plug leads and remove the plugs. Place the motor in a horizontal position and rotate the flywheel about 10 times with the starter rope.

Then place the motor in its normal, upright position and drain all of the fuel and water out of the carburetor by removing the high-speed orifice screw plugs from the lower sides of the carburetor. This procedure may vary with manufacturer and vintage.

Step Three: The electric starter (if the motor has one) and any other electrical hardware on the motor should be removed, disassembled, cleaned and dried out as much as is possible with the tools and expertise you have at hand.

Step Four: Check the gas tank for water and drain it if necessary.

Step Five: Put everything back together and follow normal starting procedures.

"We recommend a 25:1 gas/oil mix for restarting submerged motors if it is available," Ireland says.

"This helps to protect the bearings and rings. When the motor starts, allow it to run for at least half an hour on a boat or in a test tank. The best bet is to put it on a boat and run it at normal load. Heat generated by the running motor will evaporate water inside the engine and help dry it out."

"If the motor fails to start, remove the spark plugs and check for water on the electrodes," Ireland advises. "Blow any water off the electrodes and reinstall the plugs or replace them with new ones, and try to start the motor again. If it still won't start, get it to a dealer immediately."

Before you leave for the dealer, Ireland suggests you treat the motor with a fogging oil such as OMC's Storage Fogging Oil.

Spray it into the carburetor while cranking the motor to coat internal parts and further protect them from corrosion until repairs may be made.

If the motor was running when it fell overboard, follow the above procedure to get it started. However, if there is any binding when the flywheel is rotated, a connecting rod may have been bent and to avoid further damage no attempt should be made to restart the motor.

If your attempts to start the motor fail and you're still a long distance from a dealer, submerge the motor in fresh water to avoid exposure to atmosphere until you can get it to a mechanic.

If the motor was submerged in salt water, even if you do get it restarted, get it to a dealer or mechanic as soon as possible as salt water will cause excessive corrosion of electrical and internal parts.

If the motor was submerged for a long time before you or the divers could reach it and pull it out, check to see if sand or silt may have sifted into the motor before you attempt to start it.

This also applies if the motor settled on a soft or mucky bottom. If it looks sandy, don't try to start it. You will only suck the sand into the motor which could cause further damage. Let a mechanic clean it out.

Have a question you'd like a bass pro to answer? Jot it down and mail it to "Bassin' with the Pros" at this newspaper. Answers to your questions will appear in a future column.

Law enforcement run scheduled Saturday

PEARL - Organizers of Saturday's Sixth Annual Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Cross Country 5K Run say the event is the only one of its kind for the law enforcement community in Mississippi.

Registration gets underway at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Training Academy on Hwy 488 east of Whitfield near Pearl in Rankin County. Runners are to be on the starting line at 7:45 a.m.

"The 3.1 miles covered in this run are not easy. The importance of being physically fit is highlighted because the course includes rolling terrain with ditches and other obstacles," said Capt. Don Hill, acting director of the academy.

"It is considered a challenging course by the men and women who have run cross country here before," Hill said.

Commissioner of Public Safety James L. Roberts Jr. said the run allows officers to join each other in a different kind of situation than usual.

"Many of the representatives from the different law enforcement agencies have been together on manhunts, rescue missions or searches for fugitives. The run gives them the opportunity to be with each other when the mission is not of a life and death nature," Roberts said.

The commissioner said that Gov. Bill Allain is scheduled to present trophies and awards to the winning runners and teams in behalf of the Mississippi Track Club and the Training Academy which are co-sponsors of the run.

The winning three-member law enforcement teams last year were made up of runners from the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, FBI and the Mississippi Crime Laboratory.

Although it is considered primarily a law enforcement event, all runners are encouraged to participate, Roberts said.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded to winners in overall men, overall women, overall law enforcement officer, masters and law enforcement team categories, and to the oldest and youngest runners finishing the run.

Awards will be presented to the winners of 11 age divisions for men and winners of six age divisions for women.

There is a $7 entry fee.

KIPPING FIT

MUSCLE SPASMS Painful muscle cramps occur when a muscle goes into a spasm and stays that way. The spasm is caused by interference with normal muscle contraction and relaxation. Stretching often prevents cramps, but an adequate supply of fat, sugar, oxygen and minerals is necessary for muscles to contract and relax normally.

Cramps occurring at the beginning of exercise are usually due to mineral imbalance — calcium, sodium, or potassium deficiencies.

Cramps after hard exercise are the most common and are due to dehydration. When you lose a lot of fluid, blood volume is decreased and there is an inadequate supply of oxygen to the muscles. Always drink water before and during exercise.

A stitch in the side is a cramp in the large muscle between the chest and abdomen, called the diaphragm. When you exercise vigorously, you bring a lot of air in to the lungs in hard, fast breaths. The lungs fill and press on the diaphragm, which shuts off blood flow, making it go into a spasm. To relieve pain, stop, press fingers deeply below the ribs on the right side and then blow out as hard as you can.

Some people get cramps while at rest or during sleep, usually due to a pinched nerve. Crash diets with inadequate amounts of carbohydrates or minerals often cause cramps at night.

Legion kids fishing rodeo set Saturday

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Second Annual Kids Fishing Rodeo sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion post No. 139 is scheduled for Saturday. Roy Dedaux is chairman of the saltwater fishing rodeo which is open to children up to age 13. There will be trophies for the largest fish in nine saltwater categories, in addition to second and ing the rodeo hours from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., Dedaux stated. Fishing boundaries will be along Beach Boulevard from the mouth of the Jourdan River to Bayou Cadet from the shore and piers only, with no boat fishing, the chairman added. Free hot dogs and cokes will be for all participants. The fishing rodeo committee consists of Dedaux, Myron Oliver, co-third place prizes, Dedaux said. There will also be many other prizes for participants, with some being donated by local businesses. The fishing rodeo will be from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. and registration will be at the rodeo headquarters at the American Legion's Memorial Pier, Washington Street and Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis. "There will be no entry fee and registrations will be conducted dur-

chairman; Noel Gilliam, weighmaster; with committee members Commander Billy Taylor, and Billy Moran. Dedaux stated, "This is an American Legion project for the youth of our area, and many members of Post No. 139. The event was successful in 1985, and it is hoped there will be many more participants on June 14."

Bassin' with the Pros

By Trey Foerster

Saving a submerged motor.
I only witnessed it once: A fisherman frustrated from a lack of action sought to start his motor with a strenuous yank—only to find that his motor wasn't secured nor did it carry a retention chain.

Yep, kerr plunk! Right into the soup. There's nothing like seeing a man's motor dive overboard and the flurry of language and body gestures that follow!

With some fast and savvy action you can minimize damage to your motor (and billfold!) and restore your motor and ego to normal operation.

Fast action is the key to restoring operation to a submerged outboard motor according to Tom Ireland, manager of field service at Outboard Marine Corp., parent firm of Johnson and Evinrude outboards.

"Assuming it can be recovered after taking the plunge," Ireland says, "our best advice is that you hustle the motor right to a marine dealer. Once the motor is out of the water, you only have about three hours before corrosion can start working on needle valves, bearings and other important parts."

"If you are more than three hours away from a dealer, there are some steps you can take yourself to try to prevent costly damage to the motor," Ireland instructs.

If you happen to be in a remote area and can't go to a dealer for service, follow these steps:

Step One: Remove the motor cover and flush the exterior of the motor with fresh water to rinse off salt water, mud or sand.

Step Two: Get any water out of the cylinders. Disconnect the spark plug leads and remove the plugs. Place the motor in a horizontal position and rotate the flywheel about 10 times with the starter rope.

Then place the motor in its normal, upright position and drain all of the fuel and water out of the carburetor by removing the high-speed orifice screw plugs from the lower sides of the carburetor. This procedure may vary with manufacturer and vintage.

Step Three: The electric starter (if the motor has one) and any other electrical hardware on the motor should be removed, disassembled, cleaned and dried out as much as is possible with the tools and expertise you have at hand.

Step Four: Check the gas tank for water and drain it if necessary.

Step Five: Put everything back together and follow normal starting procedures.

"We recommend a 25:1 gas/oil mix for restarting submerged motors if it is available," Ireland says.

"This helps to protect the bearings and rings. When the motor starts, allow it to run for at least half an hour on a boat or in a test tank. The best bet is to put it on a boat and run it at normal load. Heat generated by the running motor will evaporate water inside the engine and help dry it out."

"If the motor fails to start, remove the spark plugs and check for water on the electrodes," Ireland advises. "Blow any water off the electrodes and reinstall the plugs or replace them with new ones, and try to start the motor again. If it still won't start, get it to a dealer immediately."

Before you leave for the dealer, Ireland suggests you treat the motor with a fogging oil such as OMC's Storage Fogging Oil.

Spray it into the carburetor while cranking the motor to coat internal parts and further protect them from corrosion until repairs may be made.

If the motor was running when it fell overboard, follow the above procedure to get it started. However, if there is any binding when the flywheel is rotated, a connecting rod may have been bent and to avoid further damage no attempt should be made to restart the motor.

If your attempt to start the motor fails and you're still a long distance from a dealer, submerge the motor in fresh water to avoid exposure to atmosphere until you can get it to a mechanic.

If the motor was submerged in salt water, even if you do get it restarted, get it to a dealer or mechanic as soon as possible as salt water will cause excessive corrosion of electrical and internal parts.

If the motor was submerged for a long time before you or the divers could reach it and pull it out, check to see if sand or silt may have sifted into the motor before you attempt to start it.

This also applies if the motor settled on a soft or mucky bottom. If it looks sandy, don't try to start it. You will only suck the sand into the motor, which could cause further damage. Let a mechanic clean it out.

Law enforcement run scheduled Saturday

PEARL - Organizers of Saturday's Sixth Annual Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Cross Country 5K Run say the event is the only one of its kind for the law enforcement community in Mississippi.

Registration gets underway at 6:30 a.m. Saturday at the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Training Academy on Hwy 488 east of Whitfield near Pearl in Rankin County. Runners are to be on the starting line at 7:45 a.m.

"The 3.1 miles covered in this run are not easy. The importance of being physically fit is highlighted because the course includes rolling terrain with ditches and other obstacles," said Capt. Don Hill, acting director of the academy.

"It is considered a challenging course by the men and women who have run cross country here before," Hill said.

Commissioner of Public Safety James L. Roberts Jr. said the run allows officers to join each other in a different kind of situation than usual.

"Many of the representatives from the different law enforcement agencies have been together on manhunts, rescue missions or searches for fugitives. The run gives them the opportunity to be with each other when the mission is not of a life and death nature," Roberts said.

The commissioner said that Gov. Bill Allain is scheduled to present trophies and awards to the winning runners and teams in behalf of the Mississippi Track Club and the Training Academy which are co-sponsors of the run.

The winning three-member law enforcement teams last year were made up of runners from the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, FBI and the Mississippi Crime Laboratory.

Although it is considered primarily a law enforcement event, all runners are encouraged to participate, Roberts said.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded to winners in overall men, overall women, overall law enforcement officer, masters and law enforcement team categories, and to the oldest and youngest runners finishing the run.

Awards will be presented to the winners of 11 age divisions for men and winners of six age divisions for women.

There is a $7 entry fee.

KEEPING FIT

MUSCLE SPASMS Painful muscle cramps occur when a muscle goes into a spasm and stays that way. The spasm is caused by interference with normal muscle contraction and relaxation. Stretching often prevents cramps, but an adequate supply of fat, sugar, oxygen and minerals is necessary for muscles to contract and relax normally.

Cramps occurring at the beginning of exercise are usually due to mineral imbalance — calcium, sodium, or potassium deficiencies. Cramps after hard exercise are the most common and are due to dehydration. When you lose a lot of fluid, blood volume is decreased and there is an inadequate supply of oxygen to the muscles. Always drink water before and during exercise.

A stitch in the side is a cramp in the large muscle between the chest and abdomen, called the diaphragm. When you exercise vigorously, you bring a lot of air into the lungs in hard, fast breaths. The lungs fill and press on the diaphragm, which shuts off blood flow, making it go into a spasm. To relieve pain, stop, press fingers deeply below the ribs on the right side and then blow out as hard as you can.

Some people get cramps while at rest or during sleep, usually due to a pinched nerve. Crash diets with inadequate amounts of carbohydrates or minerals often cause cramps at night.

Coke Express vying in Southern Regionals

The South Mississippi Soccer Club's Under 14-Select-Coke Express successfully defended its 1984-1985 title by winning the 1985-1986 State Championship in Jackson.

Coke's Trey Kidd of St. Stanislaus executes a chest trap

The Coke Express was undefeated in state league play and undefeated in the State tournament.

During the two weekend tournament Coke defeated Clinton 3-2, Brandon 4-0, Vicksburg 2-1 and in the title match defeated the Pascagoula Sting 2-1.

During the season Coke compiled a 38-4-1 record losing only to Team St. Louis from St. Louis, Missouri and the Slidell Sonics from Slidell, La.

They defeated the state champions from Arkansas, Louisiana and Tennessee.

With a strong defense allowing less than one goal per game, and presenting a balanced attack, the team held the unique distinction of all 18 players scoring.

Coke Express averaged three goals per game. Five team members were in double figures for the season: Trey Kidd, Billy Guice, Timmy Hamons, Steve Kerns and Travis Thomas.

Other members of the 1985-1986 championship team include Steve Barnett, Chad Bringle, Brian Brooks, Dretrick Clausell, Chris Graham, Koritnick Graves, Richard Jackson, Robert Jackson, Duncan Matheson, Jason McCormick, Shane Rodgers, Jason Stovall and Jackie Thomas.

The Coke Express travels this week to Houston, Texas for the Southern Regionals where they will play defending champion Oklahoma and perennial favorite North Texas. The team is sponsored by Gulf Coast Coca Cola and coached by Doug Stovall.

ASPHALT EATER—Removal of asphalt is under way on a section of US-90 from Uman Avenue to Beach Boulevard. A machine at left, on Wednesday grinds the asphalt from the highway and loads it into a truck to later be recycled for a new overlay. The new overlay will cover a concrete base which is not removed in the process. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

USM summer camps

ATHLETIC DEVELOPMENT
The Department of Athletic Administration and Coaching and the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at the University of Southern Mississippi will offer an Assessment and Development of Athletic Attributes Seminar July 7-11.

The seminar is designed for men and women coaches with special emphasis on the practical aspect and developing of an athlete's performance potential.

Other topics to be discussed are improving body mechanics, off-season training programs, the use and misuse of drugs, measuring body components, body composition, pre-season assessment and weight control.

The director of the course will be Dr. Billy Slay, chairman of the USM Department of Athletic Administration and Coaching.

Registration for the seminar will be held Monday, July 7, from 8-9 a.m. in the Wesley Foundation, Room 115.

Formal classroom sessions will run from Monday, July 7, through Friday, July 11. Other course activities including outside projects approved by the instructor will be scheduled within the allotted course time.

Participants will receive three semester hours or credit in AAC 470, which may be applied toward an undergraduate or graduate degree or used for teaching certification.

The tuition fee for three semester hours of graduate credit is $182 and the tuition fee for three semester hours of undergraduate credit is $132. Full fees may be paid in advance and tuition fees are subject to change without notice.

University housing may be available for intensive course participants with several options being offered, including those for couples and families.

For more information, contact the University of Southern Mississippi Division of Lifelong Learning, Southern Station Box 5056, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39406-5056, or call (601) 266-4190.

SOCCER

Girls and boys age 8-17 may benefit from an upcoming English-style Golden Eagle Soccer Camp planned at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Set for June 15-20, the camp will feature English Football Association full-badge Barrie Williams.

Williams is a staff-level coach for the National Sports Executive Boys Club of Great Britain, head coach of the Sutton United Football Club, coach of the London suburban soccer team founded in 1896, and is the only person in Great Britain fully certified in soccer and squash. He served as a lecturer with the USM British Studies Program.

Other leaders during the camp will include George Guber, Millsaps varsity soccer coach; Charles Long, Belhaven College varsity soccer coach; Frank Glanzer, USM soccer coach; members of the USM soccer team; and the USM trainers.

Each participant will receive a soccer ball, camp T-shirt, nylon duffel bag, and access to USM soccer fields, air-conditioned dormitories, swimming pool, sports arena, bookstore, cafeteria and student union.

The cost for the week-long camp will be $160. This fee for full-time campers will include meals (breakfast Monday through Friday), limited accident insurance, housing, awards, recreational facilities and individual items. Day campers may attend for $130, which includes lunch each day, limited accident insurance, awards, facilities and individual items.

A $40 non-refundable deposit must be made prior to June 9. The balance is payable at registration, which will take place from 4-7 p.m. June 15 in Scott Hall on the USM CAMPUS. An orientation session for participants and their parents will begin at 7 p.m. at the registration site.

At registration, tickets will be available for a picnic planned Friday, June 20, at Lake Sehoy. Tickets will be $6.50 each for the event, which begins at noon.

For more information about the camp or to pre-register, call the USM Division of Lifelong Learning at (601) 266-4191 or write Southern Station Box 5136, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39406-5136.

CHEERLEADING

The University of Southern Mississippi will host a cheerleader camp July 22-25.

The Universal Cheerleaders Association will provide instructors for the camp, which is open to all high school, junior high and middle school cheerleaders.

Participants will receive in-depth instruction in new cheers, sideline chants, pom poms, tumbling and will participate in private coaching sessions each day.

Special seminars for cheerleaders, as well as sponsors, also are planned for the camp.

For further details about the camp, contact the University of Southern Mississippi Division of Lifelong Learning, Southern Station Box 5056, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39406-5056, or call 1-800-238-0286.

HORSEMANSHIP

The University of Southern Mississippi will hold three week-long equestrian day camps July 7-11, July 14-18 and July 21-25.

The registration fee for the camp is $65 per person and that covers all activities during the Monday-Friday sessions scheduled from 8-11 a.m.

Students between the ages 8-15 will learn all aspects of grooming, saddling, feeding and barn maintenance, as well as western horsemanship. Other activities include swimming, putt-putt golf and boating. Each camper will have a minimum of one-hour of horseback riding per day.

Enrollment is limited to 24 campers per week and slots are filled on a first-come basis. Pre-registration is highly recommended and should be accomplished by Thursday prior to the week of attendance.

Late registration will be held each Monday morning at 7:45 a.m. when maximum enrollments have not been reached through pre-registration.

For a registration form, write the USM Division of Lifelong Learning, Southern Station Box 5136, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39406-5136, or call 266-4190.

Secretary advocates Park user fees

By Don Hodel
Secretary of the Interior

Last August, my wife and I shared a wonderful experience with thousands of other Americans. We visited several national parks in the West. It was an experience we will remember always, one that is truly priceless.

While I would never put a dollar figure on the worth of a visit to a national park, those same parks require the expenditure of many millions of dollars—taxpayers' dollars—for the construction, operation and maintenance of the roads, water and sewer systems, campgrounds, visitor centers and for the salaries of the park rangers and other park staff.

A family of four persons in an automobile is admitted to Grand Canyon National Park for two weeks for $2. Just outside the park, an enterprising businessman operates a theater which shows a 30-minute movie on the highlights of the park. To see this movie, our same family of four would spend $20.

I suspect that the movie is worth the $5 admission charge, and I know that admission to Grand Canyon or Yellowstone is worth more than the $2 per carload currently charged.

Only 60 of our more than 300 national park units charge any entrance fee. This Administration has proposed a selective increase in national park entrance fees as an equitable means of financing a small portion of the national budget.

I believe it is entirely fair that those who use a public resource should pay somewhat more for its operation and maintenance than those who do not; although I am sure that visitor or not, most Americans support the concept of maintaining the crown jewels of our natural and historic heritage for generations yet to come.

Park entrance fees, now frozen by the Congress, haven't been changed significantly since 1972, which means that the inflationary cycle of recent unhappy memory has reduced the real value of the existing fee collections.

Historically, park fees were much higher than they are. In 1918, when the dollar bought several times more than it does today, it cost $7.50 for an "automobile ticket of passage" to Yellowstone National Park.

Any increase in entrance fees would be implemented on a park-by-park basis. For many parks, no entrance fee should ever be charged, either because of their unique nature—the Lincoln Memorial comes to mind—or because it would be impossible to collect fees in an efficient manner.

Urban recreation areas and parkways would be exempted. In 1984, entrance and user fees amounted to $21 million, less than 3 percent of the National Park Service's budget for that year.

I think we should do better than that since as a Nation, we must face the reality of the need to balance the Federal budget within this decade.

Raising park entrance fees would be a very small, but measurable, contribution to that effort. It would put us all on record in support of a reasonable payment for a very special experience and a willingness to support those places and activities that provide direct and personal enrichment.

America pioneered the concept of national parks. Those parks give us endless recreational opportunities in the true spirit of the word, recreation.

As we take renewed pride in our national parks, we can make a reasonable contribution to those parks so that they can renew generations of Americans in centuries to come.

USM offering two photography courses

HATTIESBURG—The University of Southern Mississippi is offering two noncredit short courses in photography this summer entitled "How to Improve Your Photography" and "35MM Techniques."

Danny Rawls, the instructor of "How to Improve Your Photography," will teach participants how to compose in the viewfinder, control depth of field and emphasize the subject.

The class will meet from 7-8:30 p.m. in Room 204 of USM's Business Administration Building on June 12, 19, 26, and July 3 and 10.

"35MM Techniques" is an intensive learning experience for the 35MM photographer. Emphasis is placed on understanding the camera and lens in order to previsualize the photo before it is taken.

Brent Wallace will be the instructor of the course that will meet in Room 201 of USM's Business Administration Building from 7-8:30 p.m. on June 12, 19, 26 and July 10 and 17.

The cost of each course is $35. To register for the courses, call USM's Division of Lifelong Learning at 266-4186.

Q: What substance poses the greatest health hazard to the most people in the United States?

(K.D. Edwards, MS)

A: Believe it or not the answer is tobacco, which contains the drug nicotine. Tobacco, though legal and accepted by society, can be abused and have harmful effects. More than 50 million persons in the United States are cigarette smokers. Statistics show that 300,000 deaths occur yearly due to tobacco use.

Some of the long-term effects of smoking include: emphysema, heart disease, chronic bronchitis, and cancer of the lungs, esophagus, larynx and mouth. The health risks associated with tobacco use are exceptionally high.

Pink and White Party marks year's end for Coast Episcopal pre-schoolers

All the children were dressed in pink and white for the End of the Year Program of the Early Educational Development Center of Coast Episcopal Schools. The little girls wore special hair-dos with headbands of daisies and the boys had fresh flower boutonnières.

After the processional, kindergartner Krissy Debenport led the Pledge of Allegiance. Then Father Charles Johnson gave the opening prayer at Christ Episcopal Church.

The children, accompanied by Betty Holleman, sang a group of songs: "God Bless America," "Thank You God For Everything," "Sunshine Bright," "Ainsi Fond," "Alouette," "Jesus Loves the Little Children," "Everything is Beautiful," and "It's a Small World."

Kindergartner Jacob Potter was presented a plaque by Coast Episcopal Elementary School Art Instructor, Joida Evans. Potter's Mardi Gras Clown drawing had won first place in a state art contest sponsored by Mississippi Private School Education Association.

The children were presented cer-

Marine Science Center begins operations at NSTL

A new University of Southern Mississippi Center for Marine Science has anchored at the National Space Technology Laboratories and will begin offering courses this fall.

The center, which is designing a multidisciplinary graduate program in the marine sciences, aims to seek departmental status and begin a master's degree program in 1987. After that goal is accomplished it will prepare to establish a doctoral program.

"NSTL has many governmental agencies—NORDA, NOAA, the EPA and the National Marine Fisheries Service, for instance—that will provide useful interaction for the center," commented Dr. George Knauer, the center's first director.

Knauer, formerly a professor of oceanography at California State University, said he believes USM's Center for Marine Science has the potential for giving Mississippi one of the more high quality small programs in the country. It will be unique because of the high-tech capabilities and considerable marine talent located at NSTL, he added.

The new center already boasts a top-notch staff including an expert in deep-sea camera work who recently received his doctorate in geological oceanography from the MIT-Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution.

Another research associate, Dr.

Don Redalje has just been awarded a major National Science Foundation grant for research in the northeast Pacific. Redalje conducted post-doctoral research at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography and earned his doctorate in biological oceanography at the University of Hawaii. Knauer, who is co-principal investigator with Redalje on the $121,872 NSF grant project, earned a doctoral degree from Stanford University.

Knauer said faculty in biology, chemistry, geology, physics, geography and area development, management, polymer science and science education, both from USM and the Gulf Coast Research Lab, are expected to get involved in teaching and directing marine science students.

Physical Marine Science,

Chemical Marine Science and Marine Environmental Science are the three courses that will be offered this fall. Until the graduate program is established, the center hopes to offer degrees through the USM departments of biology, chemistry, geology and physics, with an emphasis in marine science. Two assistantships now are open for graduate students interested in working at the center in marine science.

Several years ago the state College Board designated USM as the Center for Excellence in marine science. USM established the Center for Marine Science last fall in order to fulfill its leadership role in that area.

For inquiries concerning the new Center for Marine Science, call (601) 683-3177.

COUNTING BETAS—Technician Meritt Tuel and biological oceanographer Dr. Don Redalje check a computer printout transmitted from a Gullison Gradient. Marine Science Center staff members have brought to the University of Southern Mississippi center some $100,000 worth of highly advanced equipment they have been using for ongoing research projects. Among their equipment is a liquid scintillation counter, used to count soft-beta radiation; two Hewlett Packard computer systems including a floppy disc x-y recorder for graphics and a high speed printer; and the Gullison Gradient high performance liquid chromatograph, for determining the quality and concentrations of various compounds.

The church was filled with mothers, fathers, and friends. This year the abundance of video cameras to record the event far outnumbered the still cameras.

The program ended with the children singing the Alma Mater and recessing to the school play yard that was decorated with pink and white balloons.

On the fence surrounding the yard were hung drawings executed by the children.

The refreshment table carried out the pink and white theme with pink lemonade and homemade cakes and cookies.

Mississippi State lists spring scholars

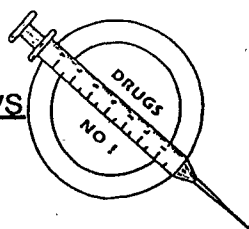

Students included on the President's List at Mississippi State University for the 1986 Spring Semester have maintained a 3.80 or better grade-point average, based on a 4.0 grading scale while completing at least 12 semester hours of course work, with no incomplete grade or grades lower than a C.

They include George Lovell Paul of Diamondhead, Russell D. Smith of Bay St. Louis and Ryan C. Vicknair of Clermont Harbor.

MSU Dean's Scholars for the semester, who have equaled or exceeded the academic achievement level attained by the upper 10 percent of their college or school while taking a minimum of 12 semester hours of course work with no incomplete grades or grades lower than a C, include Frederick Bontemps of Bay St. Louis and Susan Lorraine Fricke of Pearlinton.

Narcotics News

Donald Butler
Director
Bureau of Narcotics

Q. I have always heard that combining depressants with alcohol is especially dangerous. Is that true? (L.H. Tupelo, MS)

A. Yes. The combination of these two taken together can kill. A lot of people mistake alcohol as a stimulant, when in fact it is a depressant.

Depressants are the sedative-hypnotic drugs that depress or slow the body's functions (example: tranquilizers, barbiturates, etc.)

The two taken together multiplies their effects and greatly increases the risk of death. Overdose deaths are not uncommon when barbiturates and alcohol are used together, either deliberately or accidentally.

If you would like to ask a question, please address it to: Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, P. O. Box 6462, Jackson, MS 39212.

GRAND OPENING JOHN'S BAYOU ESTATES

RIBBON CUTTING CEREMONY-----FRIDAY-----5:00 P.M. June 13

Join with us in the opening of a beautiful subdivision on one mile of water frontage. This will be a very private subdivision of 3, 4, and 5 acre lots shared only by the property owners. All roads will be hard surfaced. A very special harbor for everyone's boat. This is perhaps the last and only bayou that goes into the Gulf of Mexico that has no pollution and never will have. The restrictive covenants guarantee this.
